NOT A SOLVENT ROAD

Mr. Thurston Denies a Statement Concerning the Union Pacific.

Argument in the Suit of the Gulf Company Against the Receivers-General Railway News.

In the hearing of the Union Pacific-Gulf railway case before Judges Caldwell and Sarborn at Omaha, yesterday, attorney Hobson started to show that the Union Pacific was not a bankrupt road, but that on the 1st of January of the present year it was in a flourishing condition. When he began to quote figures to sustain his contention Judge Caldwell interfered and inquired why, if the facts were as stated, Mr. Hobson did not bring proceedings to have the receivership set aside. The attorney replied that he was not attacking the receivership, but he wished to show that the road was perfectly solvent and therefore able to carry out the contracts entered into with the Gulf company. He asserted that there had been no failure on the part of the Union Pacific to pay interest obligations on the main line when due. He alleged that when such default was imminent George Gould and Russell Sage went down into a fund set aside for such purposes and brought out enough to meet the requirements of the case. He asserted that it was necessary for them to take $250,000 from this fund Jan. 1 to meet the obligations due. He challenged the receivers to show that they made a single report since their appointments as to the condition of the trust imposed on them. There were but few sensational features during the afternoon session of the court. Mr. Hobson completed his argument, and then attorney Patterson made the closing argument on behalf of the Gulf. Mr. Thurston then, opening his final appeal to the court, declared the statements of attorney Hobson in regard to the solvency of the Union Pacific were without any foundation in fact. Mr. Thurston had nearly completed his argument when the hour for adjournment arrived, and he will close the case in short order this morning. Suits Against Illinois Counties. Suits have been filed at Springfield, Ill., in the United States Circuit Court in as-. sumpsit by Edward D. S. Shepard, of New York, against Hamilton county, Illinois, for $90,000 and against Gallatin county, Illinois for $20,000; by Walter M. Jackson, of New York, against Johnson county, Illinois, for $40,000 and by Wm. L. Foster, of Boston, Mass., against Johnson county, Illinois, for $5,000, all suits to compel payment of principal and interest on railroad aid bonds issued by these counties in 1872, payable in 1892. The bonds of Hamilton county were issued in aid of the Louisville & Southeastern railroad, now the Louisville & Nashville road; those of Johnson county in aid of the Calro & Vincennes road, now part of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad, and those of Gallatin county in aid of the

the bonds have been adjudged valid in these courts in suits on interest coupons. The I., D. & W. R. B. F. Peirce, who is one of the trustees of the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western, is of the opinion that the road will be bid in by the first-mortgage bondholders. The illness of H. B. Hammond, president of the road, who is largely interested in the second mortgage bonds has caused a change and will doubtless prevent the carrying out of the programme as intended by Mr. Hammond and his friends. Should the road be bid in by the first-mortgage bondholders, and if the Cincinnati. Hamilton & Dayton chooses to carry out the deal which was negotiated when it was thought the plans of the second-mortgage bondholders might be put in execution, it is possible the first-mortgage bondholders may conclude to agree to them, but it is stated that some of the C., H. & D. people are not now as strongly in favor of taking control of the road and guaranteeing the inter-

The B. & O. Asks for $10,000,000. It is understood that the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has about completed negotiations for a new loan. Rumors have been circulated for several weeks that the Baltimore & Ohio was negotiating a loan in New York and London for ten millions. The Baltimore & Ohio has made large expenditures in the purchase of new lines and in the extension and improvement of old lines. Included in these improvements are the tunnel and new bridge at Harper's Ferry and the cut-off at Relay. While these improvements were costly, they will add materially to the value of the road in the way of quicker train service to Harper's Ferry by giving the assurance that no danger may be hereafter feared from floods in the Potomac

Why Mr. Keach Was Paid 857.50. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: Inasmuch as my name appears in an article headlined "Wasting the Funds," in this morning's Journal, as having received $57.50 from the County Commissioners on June 8, please have the kindness to state that the $57.50 was paid to me for two loads of potatoes delvered to the poor farm on May 23, weighing, respectively, 1,375 and 1,700 pounds, a total of fifty-one bushels and a peck, at $1.121/2 per bushel, this being the wholesale market price at that time. As to the other sums referred to, I will take pleasure in itemizing them if you will mention which ones you refer to, and I believe that they will all be found to be legitimate business transactions. I feel that, as the manner in which my name appears in this article casts a reflection on me, you owe me J. L. KEACH.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: You say in the published statement of the call for the organization and readjustment of voters on an entirely new basis that I am "doubtless prepared to explain just what the initiative and referendum involves." I am most abundanty prepared. The "initiative" gives the right to the people to initiate the enactment or repeal of law by a certain percentum of qualified voters. The "referendum" refers the law to the whole people for rejection or ratificacion. It gives the right to the people to say directly what laws shall govern them, and involves the destruction of a representative government, which is known to all honest men to be a monumental failure. Criminal Court Considers His Story-Apportionment Suit Continued Auother Week-Fuchs's Suit.

Another appeal liquor case was dismissed in the Criminal Court yesterday. John Foster, bartender in a Shelby-street groggery, was arrested by patrolman Crannen on the charge of giving away liquor after 11 o'clock. Crannen testified that the bartender passed a glass of beer over the counter when the saloon clock indicated 11:12. The defendant explained to the court that his clock was running fifteen minutes fast on that occasion and brought into court a half dozen of his friends to corroborate his statement. The court accepted the bartender's story and found him not guilty.

ELLIS SECURES A JUDGMENT. Big Four Required to Pay Him $5,000 for Broken Ribs. A jury in Room 1, Superior Court, awarded John S. Ellis $5,000 damages against the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad yesterday evening. Ellis was employed by the Big Four at Moorfield during the year 1892, and in a complaint filed a year ago he asked for $20,000 damages, alleging permanent injuries by reason of the company's neglect. On Jan. 22, 1892, he was carrying a heavy piece of metal through a department of the shops where it was very dark. He stepped into a hole in the floor and was thrown forward against an obstruction in such manner that his ribs were broken and his back injured. It was contended that the company knew of the defect in the floor and maintained it carelessly. The jury deliberated but a few minutes before returning the verdict against the road.

KEMPF'S BONDSMEN SUED. Building Association Treasurer

Charged with Being Short. Union Savings and Loan Association, No. 2, yesterday brought suit on the bond of Robert Kempf, late treasurer of the association. August Erbrich, Frederick A. Meyer and Mr. Hess are made co-defendants to the suit. Kempf was elected treasurer of the association in July, 1892, and qualified with a bond of $4,000 in the following August. It is alleged that during the term of office Treasurer Kempf received funds amounting to $17,159 and paid out at the order of the plaintiff the sum of $10,241.70, leaving a balance of $6,918. It is averred that he converted this sum to his own use, and when informed that he must make a settlement he paid over enough available assets to reduce the shortage to $2,000. This amount, it is claimed, he has failed and refuses to pay, as have each of his bondsmen. The court is asked to award judgment for $2,000.

CLAIMS HE WAS DUPED. Peter Fuchs to the Front Again with

His Damage Suit. Peter Fuchs, the plaintiff in a damage suit against William J. Schleicher, William Bullman and Henry Lichtenberg, filed an affidavit, in Room 3, Superior Court, yesterday, charging the defendant Schleicher with having been guilty of strange conduct. In 1892 Fuchs filed a damage suit against the three defendants, alleging that through their malicious action he was falsely imprisoned in the city police station. He afterwards dismissed the case, and in the affidavit filed yesterday charges that he did so through the false representation Schleicher. He also says that when he learned that he had been imposed upon, he refiled the suit and further charges that some time ago he was induced to sign a paper held by Schleicher, and afterward found that the latter, taking advantage of his ignorance of the English language, had secured his signature to an agreement which again dismissed the case. The court is asked to set down the case for a rehear-

Offenders in Police Court. In the Police Court, yesterday morning, James Rhodes was arraigned for keeping a gambling house and S. J. Blalock and for keeping a gaming house. All three named were playing pool in Rhodes's saloon on Indiana avenue for stakes of $1 each and were arrested for gambling, while the proprietor of the house was arrested for keeping a gambling house. All three cases were continued till March 30. Five 'vags' were arraigned and sent to the workhouse. William Timmins was fined $25 for assault and battery on Annie Bryant. The evidence showed that Timmins was giving beer to a five-year-old child, and when Annie Bryant protested he knocked her down. Jeff Hughes pleaded guilty to assault and battery on Laura Abbot and was fined $25 and sent to the workhouse for thirty days. Charles Parrot and George Hubbard, arrested for grand larceny and associating with thieves, were held for the action of the grand jury. They were identified by a woman who claimed that they stole $5 from her. Jesse Monroe was fined $50 and sent to the workhouse for ninety days for drawing a knife on his daughter, and $5 for drunk-It was shown that while drunk he drew a butcher knife on his daughter and threatened to cut her heart out. Ernest uschman, a bartender at the saloon at Virginia avenue and Stevens street, was fined $10 for selling liquor on Sunday. It was shown that he had sold a ten-cent "growler" of beer. George Wyatt, a bartender for Fred Brandt, was arraigned for selling liquor after 11 o'clock. A question was raised as to the necessity of proving to whom the liquor was sold, and Judge Stubbs took the case under advisement.

Emerich Failed to Pay. Frank McCray, attorney for Florence Emerich, who recently filed suit for divorce from her husband, Frank Emerich, appeared before Judge Bartholomew yesterday and complained that the order requiring the defendant to pay into the court the sum of $75 for the use of the plaintiff in conlucting her suit had not been complied with. The attorney stated that there remains due the sum of $50, which the defendant refuses to pay. The court cited

Emerich to appear on Wednesday, April 4. He Failed to Report His Find. Judge Cox yesterday sent William Klingman to the workhouse for sixty days on his plea of gullty to the charge of petit larceny. Klingman was employed as a perter at the Spencer Hotel and while in the room of a guest picked up a five-dollar oill from the floor. Other appeal cases were disposed of as follows: Edgar Beard, plea of guilty, $1 and costs; Daniel Noe, assault and battery, plea of guilty, $10 and costs; Jacob Julian, assault and battery, plea of not guilty, discharged. Mrs. French's Estate Attached. Judge Brown, of the Circuit Court, yesterday issued a writ of attachment against the property of Blanche Culbertson French, held in trust by the Union Trust Company. The order was made on the affidavit of the attorneys representing Cunningham & Garvin, of Evansville, who are suing Mrs. French for $10,000 attorneys' fees. The court also ordered Mrs. French to appear in court on or before April 28 and answer or demur to the complaint.

No Negligence of Railroad Officials. The four-thousand-dollar damage suit of Mary Curtis against the Terre Haute & Indianapolis Railroad Company closed yesterday by the court instructing the jury to find a verdict for the defendant. Mrs. Curtis was suing the road for the death of her son, who was killed by the fast express at the Belmont-avenue crossing. The reception closed with an informal dance. The young ladies knew they had been invited to dance and the Cornell men knew that they ought to have partners or at least had engaged them, but the faces were all new and the girls were all so pretty that there was some difficulty in each know-ing "which was which" for the dance. Many of the ladies were the Cornell colors, scarlet and white.

KINGSBURY-HUNT. The marriage of Miss Mary George Hunt, youngest daughter of Dr. P. G. C. Hunt, and Mr. Edward Dwight Kingsbury took place last evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harry Crossland, No. 768 North Alabama street. Only the immediate families and the most intimate friends were invited. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. M. L. Haines, of the First Presbyterian Church. All the arrangements were of the simplest and in exquisite taste. The house was prettily adorned with smilax, ferns and flowers. Smilax portieres were in the doors, and on the mantels were floral decorations in green and white. The bride wore a white silk gown, of which the only trimming was riboons. The maid of honor was Miss Harriet Cleland, and she wore a gown of white. After the ceremony a supper was served. An orchestra played for the wedding and during the evening. The bride's friends assisting in the dining room were Miss Dorothy Willard, Miss Mary Bunger, Miss Lillian Smith and Miss Emma Matthews. At the bunch bowl were Misses Ethel Cleland, Louella McLain and Madge Layman. Mr. and Mrs. Kingsbury left last night for St. Louis to spend a week or ten days, and when they return they will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Crossland for a few weeks before going to housekeeping. The only guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Phipps, of Danville, Ill. HARREL-VOSS

REV. MORGAN WOOD'S LECTURE.

He Tells a Large Audience About "Triumphant Manhood."

The Monteflore Society had a literary treat last night for the large audience that gathered in Plymouth Church, despite the wretched condition of the weather. Rev. Morgan Wood, of Detroit, a bright, humorous and entertaining speaker, talked for two hours and a half on "Triumphant Manhood." The Detroit minister was to have dealt with "A Job Lot of Humanity," but on his arrival here yesterday the society consented to substitute the lecture proposed. Manly men and men who have the force and reserve power to lay out a course in life and then follow it are the sort of men held up by the lecturer as ideals. The great thing in life is to take man simply as he is. With the world it is simply the appreciation of what a man is and what he is capable of, and not who he is and where he came from. The speaker had an apology for the defects of manhood. He thought that in all this country there are the names of but three men whose fame will live forever-Washington, Lincoln and Grant. We have no such men now because men don't have time to make men out of themselves. A man must understand himself and triumph over himself before he triumphs over those around him. The speaker had something to say about the fanciful and the ideal there is in life. He had no objection to people taking up a novel and reading it. If he were asked how much fiction a man ought to read, he should say just as much as his taste deled. People who take up i novei snoui read it as a man seasons his dinner with pepper and salt. Take enough of it to sharpen the appetite; just enough to season the food, but no more. The rough and uncouth mind of to-day is the result of the owner's dislike of literature, to his unappreciation of the fanciful and ideal side life, was contended by the lecturer. He held that evil and sin are simply lif incidents, and he believed that a man could not be good unless it were possible for him to be bad. The man who is born temperate deserves no credit for living a temperate life, for he doesn't know how to live any other way. Goodness is only possible when a choice between good and evil exists. The speaker lamented the absence of manhood in the United States Senate and in the press. The latter, he believed, had gradually degenerated into a commercial enterprise. In a word to the girls he advised them to seek for this triumphant manhood, and cautioned them to beware of marrying a man to reform him. He thought this one of the impossibilities. He further admonished the young ladies to hold themselves aloof from the professional society man. This individual, he said, usually un dertakes every other occupation in before he falls into society. He was a sad failure in everything he undertook, and when he at last realized that he didn't know enough to drive a street car he entered society. This step, the lecturer 1amented, is usually taken by the purchase of a dress suit on credit. TO ENCAMP AT BROAD RIPPLE.

Indiana's Army Will Probably Spend Week There.

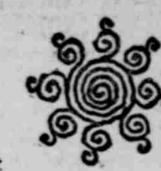

Dr. Light says the Indiana Legion wil camp on his thirty-acre park at Broad Ripple next July, he having received a letter to that effect from Adjutant-general Robbins yesterday. There are advantages possessed by Broad Ripple, so the Adjutant-general thinks, that other locations adjacent to Indianapolis are not favored with. At war headquarters in the State house, yesterday, the Broad Ripple selection was not fully verified, though the indications were that a bulletin would soon be issued announcing that this site had been determined upon.

For several days the word has been passed around among the sports that there was to have been a prize fight between two local celebrities. One of the principals went to the appointed place, outside the city limts, at the hour set for the fight, but the other failed to come, and it was found that no arrangements had been made to secure the premises. POLITICAL. CITY OF WEST INDIANAPOLIS, To the Republicans of West Indianapolis: Owing to the great increase in the business of the clerk's office, occasioned by the recent incorporation of the town as a city and the short time until the holding of the Republican nominating convention, it will be impossible for me to see all of you personally. I, therefore, take this method of announcing myself as a candidate for Mayor of the city. I have been your town clerk for two years and necessarily in that time I have gained an intimate knowledge of the affairs and needs of the city. During the first year of the city's existence much work will have to be done, with which the Mayor should be thoroughly acquainted. If you think I can serve you I should be glad to have the nomination It will knock down the fruit. HENRY C. FINCH.

TOO MUCH BRASS BAND.

Postoffice Detectives Handicapped in the South Bend Cases.

Postoffice Inspector Fletcher, who, with others, has been working on the South Bend mail robbery case, says that of the 185 patent medicine and complexion specialty firms in Chicago only five lost anything by the thefts. He attributes the fallure to catch the thieves to the indiscreet policy pursued by E. R. Russell, of South Bend, Secretary of the Traveling Men's Accident Association, who unintentionally warned the guilty parties by telling publicly of the presence of the inspectors and their mission. They were compelled to go to him for certain information. After the first experience of this sort they postponed investigation for a time and then took it up quietly, and were meeting with some success when they again had to take him into their confidence, and this time he gave away the whole story to the Chicago newspapers because. so Mr. Fletcher says, they would not do what he desired, namely, secure the dismissal of several employes at the postoffice.

Diphtheria at the Knightstown Home The Board of State Charities has just visited the Soldiers' and Sallors' Orphans' Home at Knightstown. Up to Feb. 1 there had not been a death at the home in eighteen months, but during the last two months there has been an epidemic of diphtheria which resulted in three fatal cases out of forty. The home has six hundred children and one hundred employes.
